BIOGRAPHY

Dr. William Arthur Langston practiced family medicine for forty-five years and delivered, by his own careful count, 2,104 babies. He made house calls long after it was fashionable and kept every thank-you note.

He served on the hospital board, endowed the nursing scholarship that bears his wife’s name, and played a patient, losing game of chess. He is survived by his daughter, Dr. Helen Langston, his son, Arthur, and five grandchildren.

*God is our refuge and strength,
a very present help in trouble.*
