REMEMBERING LINDA

Linda Sue Marsh taught art to middle schoolers for twenty-eight years and believed every one of them could draw. Her classroom smelled of tempera paint and was never quiet.

She kept a butterfly garden behind the house and knew the monarchs' schedule better than her own. Linda is survived by her husband, Paul, her daughter, Emily, her mother, Jean, and hundreds of former students who still have something she helped them make.

OUR THANKS

Your notes, drawings, and stories about Linda have filled our home. Thank you for showing us how far her kindness traveled.

TREASURED MEMORIES

REPLACE WITH YOUR OWN PHOTOS

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON
